STANLEY STIRRED THEM UP.

A Former Well Known Democrat of Fleming Delivers a Great Speech at Henderson.

HENDERSON, KY., Nov. 4.—Henderson was wild with excitement last night. A. O. Stanley, Democratic elector for this district, had a joint debate with Isaac Palmer Caldwell, of Louisville, at the Tabernacle with 5,000 people in attendance. Mr. Caldwell confined his talk to the alleged disfranchisement of Louisville, and in naming with considerable gusto prominent citizens of Louisville who had gone into the Republican party, with a sial tribute to Carlisle, Breckinridge, John Young Brown and Gen. Buckner. He then made an assault upon the memory of Goebel, intimating that he had murdered Sandford. At this the crowd grew restless and began to yell for Goebel and Beckham. With the exception of this interruption and the storm of hisses and cat calls at the mention of the name of John Young Brown, they gave him polite attention. When Mr. Stanley arose to answer Caldwell the excitement was great. The whole audience stood and continued the demonstration for fully fifteen minutes.

Capt. W. T. Ellis, of Owensboro, who was present, said: "There has not been such a speech made in Henderson since the days of Powell, Dixson and Crittenden and other grand old landmarks long gone forever. In one so young it was a masterly effort." W. I. Thompson, Republican Mayor of the city, said it was the most pitiful slaughter he ever witnessed. At each telling point the crowd cheered lustily, and at times almost every Democrat was on his feet, the men, women and children shouting themselves hoarse.

Does Cutting Promote Growth of Hair?

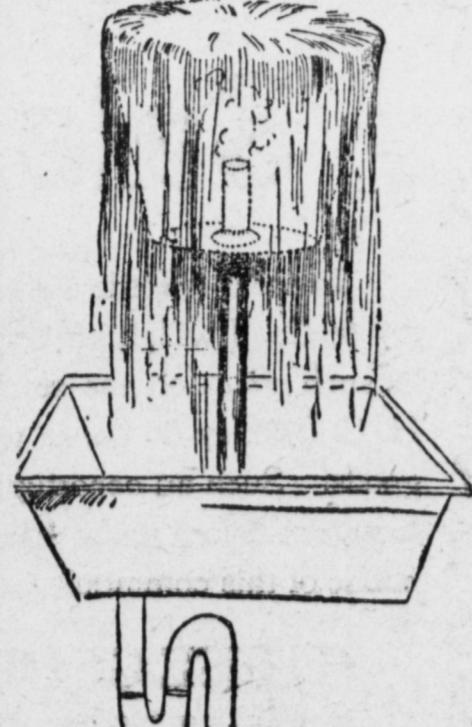

This question is answered by the Frankfurter Wochenschrift in this wise: "It is believed by laymen and professional hairdressers that cutting largely increases the growth of the hair. This belief begins with the involuntary comparison of the hair with a plant. As grass that is often cut short grows again and becomes thicker, so, it is believed, the hair should do when it is cut. This comparison, however, is a false one. A developed hair is a perfectly formed mass of horn which has nothing further to do with the case in which the hair rests than to receive from it from below further growth and to be held firmly by it. In this mass of horn, as in the nails of the fingers and the toes, there is no longer any sap in circulation. This mass, so to speak, is a product which cannot be quickened and strengthened by new nourishment because the latter cannot enter it. On the other hand, what happens in a blade of grass is totally different. The blade of grass is a network of fine ducts in which is constantly circulating the nourishment which the blade draws from the root. It presents, in contrast with the dead body of the hair, a living vegetating substance which has a most intimate connection with the condition of its root and which dries up infallibly when it is separated from its root, while the hair will remain unaffected for thousands of years after its papilla has withered away. We need cite only one irresistible proof of this—the hair on the heads of mummies. The root of the hair as long as it exists can produce a new hair when the old hair has fallen out, while the root of many a plant gives existence to one sprout only and then, together with it, declines and dies. The more a hair is disturbed in its natural growth by continually cutting off its ends the less rests its papilla, the real producer of the hair, finds. The papilla, being constantly incited to excessive production, wavers finally in its activity, decays and dies. For this reason a woman with a bald head is never or seldom seen, as the natural and very slow process of the growth of a woman's hair is not disturbed. The individual hair reaches a definite length, and after years it falls out of itself, and a new hair begins to appear as soon as the papilla has had time to rest itself thoroughly and to prepare itself for the process of a new growth. These are the reasons which lead to the obviously valid conclusion that cutting the hair is rather injurious than useful."

SANITARY DRINKING CUP.

Insures Cleanliness by Constant Flow of Fresh Water.

Members of both the board of education and the board of health are discussing a new drinking cup for use in the Atlanta public schools. It is represented as being the most sanitary drinking utensil that has yet been invented. A picture of the new cup is reproduced herewith from the Atlanta Constitution.

The cup is stationary and rests over a basin which catches the overflow.

SANITARY DRINKING FOUNTAIN.

The water comes direct from the pipes to the cup and is allowed to run as long as desired. The flow is controlled by a faucet just above the basin.

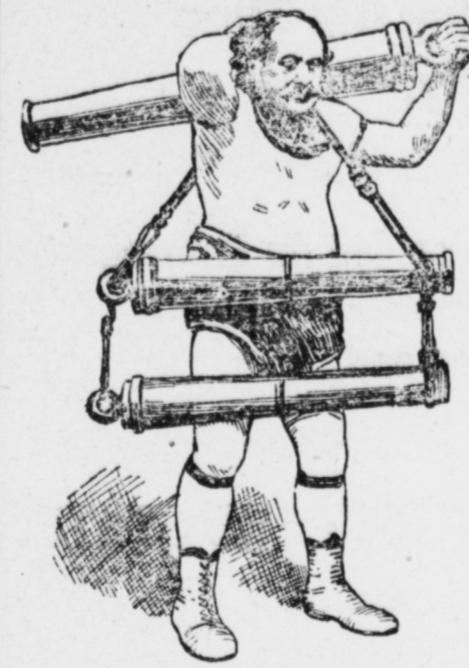

It is proposed to allow the water to run into this cup during school hours. There is a constant flow over the sides of the cup, preventing contamination of any kind. Sticks, weeds or anything else not too heavy is thrown from the cup by the force of the water. The edges can never be contaminated by diseased mouths because of the constant flow. In drinking the mouth is placed to the cup without moving the contrivance.

In addition to its other advantages the cup is believed to be especially adapted to southern schools because ice cannot be placed in the water which the children drink. The water is cooled by means of a coil of pipe around which ice is packed, the action being much like that of a condensing worm in a still.

THE SPORTING WORLD.

Antonio Panagi Coutalianos, the Greek strong man and wrestler, is now in New York and is ready to meet all comers in the weight lifting line and is especially anxious to arrange a Greco-Roman wrestling bout with Ernest Roebert for the world's championship.

Coutalianos is a native of Athens and has traveled in almost every country of the world. His record shows that he is one of the greatest strong men in the world and that he has few equals at wrestling.

Among the best men who have been defeated by him are the Italian champion, Paul Reperto; the Spanish champion, Stellins, and Semun, the sultan's best man, whom he vanquished in Constantinople. Coutalianos also made a clean sweep of Chile, meeting all comers and defeating Surgiano, Pinakia, Cristilo and Callstro, the best men of that country.

Coutalianos' chief feats of strength are the lifting of 2,200 pounds, with harness; lifting a 400 pound ball in each hand, and the lifting of three cannons, which are strapped to him and fired off while he holds them in the air.

Baseball Talk.

There are renewed expressions of belief in all quarters that the attempt of the American Baseball league to get into Washington and Baltimore will be a success. Some experts go so far as to say that President Brush of the Cincinnati team, who is at the head of the eastward movement, will take on Louisville as well in the face of the National league's opposition. And there are several facts in favor of the opinion. It will be remembered that when the National league reduced the number of cities in its circuit to eight by dropping Louisville, Cleveland, Baltimore and Washington the magnates expected a great boom in baseball, but it did not come. Instead these worthy magnates lost a lot of money, and they have been sitting on their heels for the need of chairs ever since.

The theory that these cities would not support minor league teams, which was evolved at the time of the reduction of the circuit, has been exploded this season by the success of the Cleveland team of the Western league. This has caused the capitalists to believe in Brush's scheme, and his chances of success are greatly improved. It is true that the grounds at these four cities are still under the control of the National league, but the minor league teams will still have playing room there, for with Capital Brush can secure other grounds, and besides that the National league can hardly afford to increase its circuit to the original 12 clubs.

An Important Shooting Fixture.

One of the most important shooting events of the year is that which will take place at St. Thomas, Ont., on Nov. 13, 14, 15 and 16. To all intents and purposes it will be an international affair, as the best shots of Canada and this country have entered for it. The event is Tom Donley's fourth annual handicap tournament, and this year it will be managed by Jack Parker, the Canadian trap shooter. One of the most interesting features of the shoot will be the contest for the Gillman-Barnes trophy which is now held by Edward Bates. This match will take place on the first day along with six other events. Besides, there will be 12 other live bird and blue rock target events. The Donley trophy will become the personal property of the winner this year. The aggregate value of the purses that will be offered in the handicap this year is $1,300. The handicap committee is as follows: E. H. Trip, Indianapolis; Emil Werk, Cincinnati; John Parker, Detroit; Bob Emslie, St. Thomas; Benjamin Norton, New York city; Dr. S. E. Overbott, Hamilton, Ont.

In addition to its other advantages the cup is believed to be especially adapted to southern schools because ice cannot be placed in the water which the children drink. The water is cooled by means of a coil of pipe around which ice is packed, the action being much like that of a condensing worm in a still.

Big Earnings of a Fighter.

While a crowd of sports were recently discussing the question as to who was the wealthiest fighter Sam Harris, manager of Terry McGovern, spoke up and said: "Well, I can't say who has the most money, but I know one thing, McGovern can sit right down at this present moment and write out his check for $50,000. I don't think there are many of them who can do that." And McGovern has made this amount in less than three years.

Intercollegiate Basket Ball.

The colleges have taken up basket ball, and an intercollegiate league is about to be formed. It will include Yale, Harvard, Cornell and Dartmouth. The season of the new league will open on Dec. 1, after the officers have been elected and the winter schedule made out. The Yale team will visit Chicago and Minneapolis for a series of games, in each city in the Christmas holidays.

Extravagance of the Poor.

In his principles of economics Professor Marshall says that perhaps $500,000,000 annually is spent by the working classes and $2,000,000,000 by the rest of the population of England in ways that do little or nothing toward making life nobler or truly happier. The presidential address before the economic section of the British association at its recent Bradford meeting by Henry Higgins was devoted to proving the above statement by pointing out the many ways in which, largely through ignorance, the working classes absolutely throw money away. The simple item of food waste alone is almost enough, according to Mr. Higgins, to justify the above figures. The women do not know how to buy economically, and owing to the large number who are now practically "brought up" in factories very few of them are passable cooks or even good housekeepers. Housekeeping of even the humbler sort is an art. To know what is the cheapest food from the point of view of contained nutrient, how to cook it to the best advantage and how not to have any waste does not come to a woman by intuition. As Mr. Higgins says, if more knowledge and time were devoted to the teaching of cooking in our schools the meals of most families would be more varied, more appetizing and nutritious and much more economical. Mr. Atkinson has estimated that the waste of food in the United States from bad cooking alone is over $1,000,000,000 a year. In speaking of expensive habits, such as liquor drinking and smoking, Mr. Higgins refers to the latter as the most economical of recreations. "How else, for instance, could the Harz miner give himself an agreeable sensation a thousand times a year at so low a cost as $2? But nobody," he continues, "would wish to see a freeman using his tobacco as the Russian peasants described to me by Prince Krapotkin, who first chewed it, then dried and smoked it and finally used the ashes as snuff." The time may not be far distant, Mr. Higgins suggests, when in large industrial towns the entire preparation of meals will be in the hands of specialists, just as the originally domestic operations of baking and brewing now are.—New York Times.

President McKinley as an Editor.
One of the department heads at Washington recently wrote an article for a magazine which required the president's approval for publication. The president asked that the article be given to him. At the end of a week the manuscript came back, edited in a way which completely won editorial admiration. The president was apparently thoroughly conversant with all the marks which editors use in making corrections. Every erasure and interlineation had its proper sign, and each was in the president's own handwriting.—Omaha Bee.

FUEL OF THE FUTURE

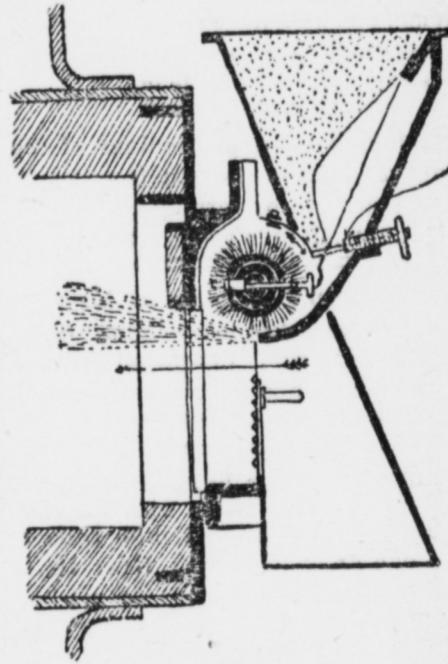

POWDERED COAL FOUND SAFE AND ECONOMICAL.

Ingenious Feeding Appliance That Works Automatically—Coal Hammered to Dust as Fine as Flour. Predicted Solution of Garbage Problem.

Powdered coal is the fuel of the future, according to the officials of the Illinois Central railroad, who have been experimenting recently with a device for making use of coal dust.

Two boilers at the railroad's Fourteenth street power house have been equipped with the new invention, and tests of efficiency and economy in the use of coal will be continued for the next 30 days. At the end of that time the railroad men claim they will have demonstrated that coal when ground fine enough is the best and cheapest fuel available, as well as being absolutely smokeless. The subject of coal dust firing has occupied the attention of engineers all over the world for years, but the idea has only recently been put into practical shape. For coal dust firing the coal must be ground to a powder as fine as wheat flour.

The appliances now in use at the railroad power house are simple, according to the Chicago Record. A large hopper above the door of the firebox receives the dust, which is put up in bags —70 pounds to the bag. From this hopper the powdered coal is jarred down by an automatic shaker to a revolving brush with steel bristles. At the same time currents of air are admitted at one side and the top of the brush. Revolving several hundred times a minute, this brush throws the particles of coal into the firebox, where they are instantly in a state of combustion. Dampers for the further admission of air are placed below the brush.

These appliances were placed on extra boilers, the only change necessary being the construction of a front facing of brick about two feet deep.

Further tests were made recently, when the other four boilers in the power house, which are hand fired, were shut off, and the two boilers having the new devices were used to operate the entire plant. Bags of dust were poured into the hopper as required, and the fire got no other attention during the two hours' test except an occasional adjustment of the dampers and the feeders. Illinois coal, quoted at $1.40 per ton, was the fuel, and the officials declared that, so far as they could see, it was doing the work as well as the better grades formerly used. The coal is dumped into a circular pit, where six hammers, each striking 100 blows a minute, pound the mass until it is fine enough to drop through meshes at the bottom of the pit.

It was claimed that the adoption of this arrangement by the city would give an easy solution of the garbage problem, as the intense heat would instantly consume the rubbish. Experiments are being pushed to demonstrate whether the system is suitable for use on the road's locomotives. Tests will be made of the apparatus in several of the large smelting works within the next month.

John F. Wallace, second assistant vice president of the Illinois Central railroad, declared that the officials of the company were satisfied that the principle of the new invention was correct and that they expected to demonstrate that there was a saving of from 25 to 40 per cent on the same quality of coal. Mr. Wallace said that within the next month he would begin experiments, using the front end cinders and the clinkers from the grates as fuel after grinding them.

Great Famines.

The worst famines of modern times were the famine in Ireland in 1846-7, in which 1,000,000 perished; the Indian famine of 1866, which claimed 4,500,000 victims; the Indian famine of 1877, in which 500,000 people perished, and the famine in China in 1878, in which 9,500,000 died.

THE Democracy of old Mason did grandly.

THE "st-at-hom" Democrats were heard from yesterday.

DOVER is entitled to the banner for the largest Democratic majority,—110.

To W. S. Taylor, Mount's Home Injinniany: Better stay where you are. YOUTSEY.

THE Democrats of Mason Tuesday polled the highest vote in their history.

EVEN Jim Payton and that gang of Lewisburg prisoners couldn't save Judge Pugh.

THE BULLETIN has the satisfaction of knowing it did its whole duty during the recent exciting campaign.

THE sturdy Democrats of Mason County are invincible when they pull off their coats and go in to win.

If the Republicans had turned a few more prisoners out of the county jail, there's no telling what the Democratic majority would have been.

BRYAN'S defeat is disheartening in the extreme, but we'll have to pull ourselves together and go at 'em again in 1904. That's the stuff we're made of.

THE high-handed proceedings of the Republican leaders the last few days to add to their vote by turning negro prisoners out of jail didn't help 'em any.

THE handsome majority in Mayslick precincts is a big feather in Deputy Sheriff Roberson's cap. Compared with a year ago the Democratic increase is forty and with two years ago it is eighty.

It will take six months for Br'er Marsh to get on speaking terms with his conscience—if he has any.—Public Ledger.

The one great fault with Br'er Davis is he hasn't any conscience to get "on speaking terms with."

ELLIS HEADLEY, a representative of the Honest Election League in Louisville, was arrested at Paducah Saturday night on a charge of bribery. A receipt showing that he had paid to William Baker $150 to be used in obtaining the defeat of Gov. Beckham and Congressman Wheeler was found on his person when arrested. Baker swore out the warrant for Headley's arrest. Headley was given a hearing Monday and was held in the sum of $1,000 for further trial. He is a son of ex-Secretary of State John W. Headley. If he is guilty of the charge, he should be given such a sentence that his fate will serve as a warning to this class of election bribees.

WENT FOR YERKES.

Bronston Said the Republican Candidate Was "Not a Gentleman."

LEXINGTON, KY., Nov. 5.—At the Auditorium to-night Charles J. Bronston closed the campaign for the Democrats of this county. As to the abuse of himself by Yerkes, who spoke here this afternoon, he said:

"In my speech at the opera house a few days ago I said that Mr. Yerkes was a gentleman. I thought then that he was. I do not charge him with slander, but I retract my statement concerning him. I know now that he is not a gentleman. He deliberately and intentionally falsified his statements to enhance his own interests. He knew that I was offered $50,000 to go to Frankfort and become counsel for that band of Republican cowards and assassins, and he knew when he made his utterances this afternoon that I had declined that offer with the statement that no sum of money however great could induce me to act as counsel for men who had been guilty of the crime committed by Taylor and his crew."

Serious injury has been done to the growing wheat in Central Kentucky by the fly. Some wheat fields in Woodford County have been plowed up entirely, the damage was so great.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on Jas. Wood & Son, druggists, and get free a trial bottle. Regular size 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Best values and a weight suitable for this climate. The prices are right for we bought early to secure ante-season discounts. And another thing—every garment was made in 1900—there is a freshness about them that careful ladies appreciate. Prevailing style of dress seems to demand close fitting under garments. KLIPP & BROWN.

The BULLETIN'S rooster is crowing today over the glorious victory won in this district and State.

Hon. James N. Kehoe, Mason's eloquent young son, has redeemed the Ninth, his majority over Judge Pugh, according to the latest returns, being not less than 500.

A dispatch from Louisville early this morning places Governor Beckham's majority in the State at 5,000.

Mason County Democrats rallied nobly to the support of their brilliant young leader, and rolled up a handsome majority for the entire ticket. Mr. Kehoe ran ahead of his ticket, his majority of about 570 being a splendid testimonial of the esteem in which he is held by the people of his home county.

The election in city and county was unusually quiet. By noon nearly the entire vote in many precincts had been polled, and the election officers had an easy time of it in the afternoon.

In Dieterich's precinct the ballots gave out shortly after 2 o'clock, but some loose ballots were delivered to the election officers, and the voters were practically all polled. This district is usually a stand-off, the Democratic majority a year ago being only two, and two years ago it was only three. The trouble was due either to miscalculation as to the number of ballots for the precinct, or to a mistake in labeling the ballot-boxes.

The tabulated returns of the vote in this county are given below. The official count may change the figures slightly.

The application of St. Patrick's Church Trustees to City Council to exonerate them from payment of taxes on the lot at corner of Third and Limestone streets, was only from the period when the buildings were removed and the property ceased to pay an income.

The marriage of Mr. Blair Tolle and Miss Fannie Gollenstein will be solemnized Wednesday, Nov. 28th, in the parlors of Rev. A. T. Ennis, pastor of St. Patrick's Church. The couple are among Maysville's most worthy and estimable young people, and a host of friends will unite in congratulations and sincere go d wished in advance of the happy event.

R. B. Owens has qualified as executor of Henry Gibbs, deceased. Gibbs, in his will, bequeathed $50 to his daughter Lottie Norris of Paris; $10 each to his daughters Bettie Breckinridge and Harriet Wells; $10 to his granddaughter Frances Breckinridge; $5 to his daughter Jessie Reed; the balance of property to be divided between his daughter Amanda Williams and his son Daniel Gibbs.

Mace Agnew, well known along the river, recently underwent a unique operation. One of his great toes was a little longer than the other, which necessitated the purchasing of two pairs of shoes to get one, his left foot requiring a No. 9 and his right foot a No. 8. He employed a surgeon to amputate one joint of the toe of his left foot, and now he is able to wear No. 8's on both feet.

The Kentucky Synod of the Southern Presbyterian Church, in session at Campbellsville, committed itself by formal resolutions to the establishment of a college for the higher education of women in the State of Kentucky as soon as the way be clear. The college will be conducted under the auspices of the Synod. A committee was appointed to take the whole matter in hand. This committee will receive bids for a location and recommend their choice at the meeting of the Synod at Hopkinsville in October of next year. Lexington already has registered a bid for the big college. One year ago the trustees of Sayre Institute offered that institution as a location for the college.

Spread Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in twenty years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run-down man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, druggists."

The Difference in Cost

Of thoroughly good fashionable and serviceable Clothes and Shoes as bear our label and inferior goods is not large enough to warrant you taking the risk attached to buying ordinary goods. The kind of clothes we sell are tailored by the same class of journeymen tailors as are employed by high-priced merchant tailors. Not a yard of fabric is used in these garments that has not been thoroughly tested for its textile strength and color fastness; therefore we thoroughly endorse and guarantee all goods we sell, and say, "money refunded" without argument if for any reason you are dissatisfied with your purchase.

Our experience as well as yours has proven that the kind of merchandise we sell is as near perfection as can be, and though they cost a little more than the other kinds they are really the cheapest kind in the end. Our leaders in clothes are Stein Bloch Co., Adler Bros. & Co., the best brands in the country.

In Shirts, the Manhattan; Hanan Shoes and Stetson Hats. All of these are the highest class of merchandise in their respective lines.

MRS. DAVID TOMLIN.

A Friend's Tribute to One of the County's Estimable Women Who Died Last Week.

At Murphysville, Oct. 31st, Mrs. Louisa Tomlin, wife of David Tomlin, departed this life after six weeks illness of typhoid fever. She was in her thirty-ninth year. She leaves three children—Miss Lizzie, now eighteen, and Miss Mary, fifteen, and Willie, twelve years of age, to mourn her loss.

She was a generous, noble little woman, a kind loving mother, a very indulgent patient wife. She was ambitious beyond her strength; affectionate, neat and refined, bright and intellectual.

Her highest ambition was to rear her children to be useful and above reproach, and to make the world better. By her energy and ambition she fought the battles of life under mountains of difficulties and amid the dark clouds that hovered to spread gloom and despair, she was a brave example of perpetual sunshine. She had a smile and a kind word for all that came in her presence. She believed in smiles and cheerfulness, looking on the bright side of everything. The thing that grieves the farthest toward making life worth while.

That costs the least and does the most is just a pleasant smile.

It was her greatest pleasure to take the hand of the friendless, smile upon the sad and dejected and do all she could to bring smiles and comfort about them.

Mrs. Tomlin was a daughter of Mr. John Paul, of Dover, one of the most upright and amiable men that Mason County ever produced. She loved her home, and desired to see it cozy and attractive. But death with icy hand closed down her eyelids still, and she has met her dear mother in the realms of eternal bliss. She has left behind the hills and seas and plains with her season of smiles and frowns, the spring of leaf and bud, the summer of shade and flower, the autumn with its laden boughs, the winter and home and fireside where grow and bloom the virtue of our race, and music, with its sad and thrilling verse, and song and hope and love and aspirations, all these she has left, and gone to her rest, where she cannot again be disturbed. She eternally wears a clean white robe, and she awaits the coming of her noble good father where she will meet him with outstretched arms. Good bye, wife, mother, friend. A FRIEND.

The Bourbon News has the following in reference to a former resident of Mason, only son of Elder and Mrs. J. H. Wallingford of Stone Lick: "Dr. J. Stuart Wallingford, of Newport, has located in this city for the practice of medicine, and he and his family have taken board at Mrs. Hart's, on Duncan avenue. Dr. Wallingford is a graduate of Ohio Medical College and has practiced successfully in Newport for six years, his specialties being the nose and throat and operative surgery. He has performed a number of successful operations for appendicitis. Dr. Wallingford and wife are both natives of Mason County, and the doctor comes recommended as an excellent physician and a thorough gentleman. He will be associated with Dr. H. H. Roberts."

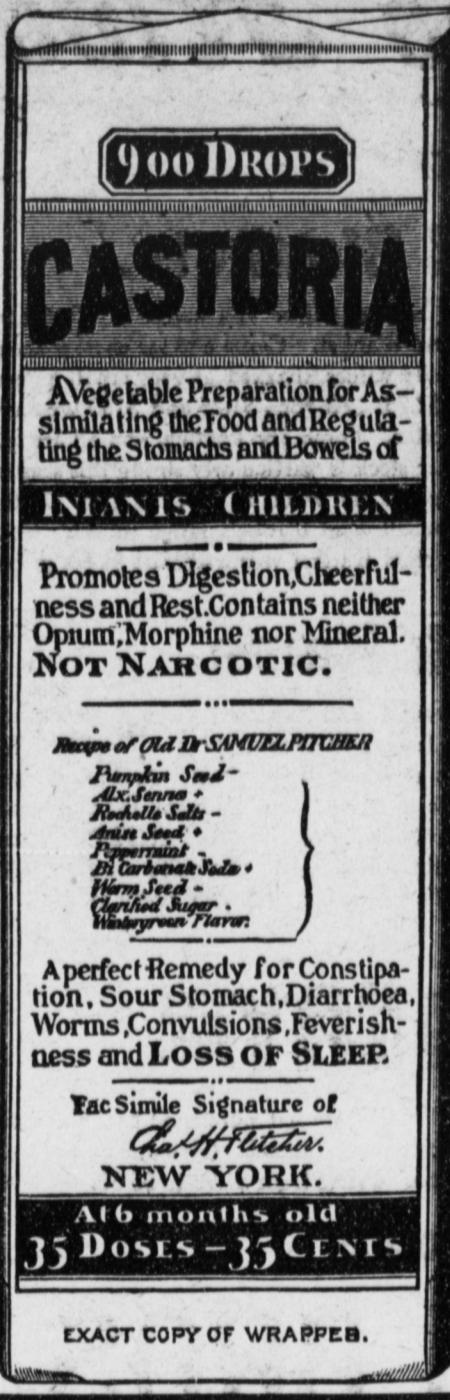

A writer in the New York Medical Journal says that the curved pages of the ordinary book are injurious to the eye of the reader. The curvature necessitates a constant change of the focus of the eye as it reads from one side to another, and the ciliary muscles are under a constant strain. Moreover, the light falls unequally upon both sides of the page, further interfering with a continued clear field of vision. It is suggested that the difficulty might be obviated if the lines should be printed parallel to the binding instead of at right angles to it.

Enquirer: "Mr. Harry Mead and Mr. Tom Gaddis, of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, of Ft. Smith, Ark., and Mrs. and Miss Boyd, of Maysville, Ky., were among the distinguished out-of-town guests at the Price-Paxton wed-
